These terms and conditions apply to National Instruments Corporation and any of its affiliates ("NI") Generative AI tools (each a "Tool"), designed exclusively for NI's customers using licensed NI software. By subscribing to, accessing and/or using a Tool, you agree to be bound by these Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). Please read these Terms carefully before using any Tool. If you disagree with any part of these Terms, you must not use the Tool. The individuals who accept these Terms represent that they are authorized to approve and enter into these Terms on behalf of the legal entity represented by them. By using the Tool, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to be bound by these Terms and Conditions.

1. License Grant

Subject to your compliance with these Terms, NI grants you a nonexclusive and limited license to access and use the Tools. The licenses are revocable, non-transferable, non-sublicensable. Your use of the Tools is governed by and subject to NI's General Software License Agreement and/or any other applicable license terms governing your use of the NI software through which the Tools are made available.

2. Compliance with Laws

Your use of the Tools must not violate any applicable laws, including copyright or trademark laws, export control laws and regulations, including laws and regulations in its jurisdiction.

3. Reservation of Rights

4. IP Ownership

As between NI and you, you retain all rights to any content, data, or other information submitted by you as input to the Tools. Input may be transmitted to and used by NI for the sole purpose of providing services to you, including generation of outputs or suggestions through the Tools.

As between NI and you, subject to your compliance with these Terms and the applicable General Software License Agreement, NI hereby grants you all its rights, title and interest in and to any suggestions, content, or other outputs generated by the Tools in response to your input. You may use such output for any purpose consistent with these Terms and the applicable General Software License Agreement. Given the characteristics of the Tools and their technology, which is based on artificial intelligence, any output provided to you may not be exclusive and/or unique, and it is possible that other NI customers might generate outputs similar to any output generated by you. In any such event, the rights granted above do not apply to any output generated for other NI customers.

5. Data Use and Monitoring

NI hereby warrants that it shall not store nor use any content, inputs and/or prompts provided by you as part of your use of any Tool in order to train its generative AI models and/or to train any of its Tools.

NI may use telemetry capabilities and monitor your interactions with our tools, including but not limited to your interactions with the Tools and the Tools' responses but we will not use any of your specific content submitted as inputs. This monitoring aims to enhance the technical performance and Tool enhancement.

Your Content and the suggestions generated by the Tools may be reviewed through automated or manual methods for content filtering purposes.

While NI will not train its models using your specific data, we will utilize insights gained from monitoring for the purpose of improving product performance. Our analysis will focus on human learning rather than AI learning.
